

Monthly Training Grant Breakfasts, Fall 2020

Selected Wednesdays at 9:00 AM (unless otherwise noted)

September 9, 2020

Topic: Fireside Chats: Mentor-mentee relationships are an important part of academic training. But, can you get everything you need from one mentor? The answer is clearly no. So, let's come together and build those mentoring networks with others in our training group. We'll break into smaller cross-disciplinary groups and learn to speak one another's language, across labs, over our shared research themes.

October 7, 2020

Topic: Faculty Lightning Talks. How do people and fish communicate while choosing mates? What do kiwi snails have in common with migratory songbirds? How does stress parents and offspring?... What are the common themes in reproductive diversity?... Come hear from a subset of training faculty, who will give lightning talks on their research. Each person will talk for <5 min, <5 slides + time for questions in between.

Speakers: Curt Lively, Troy Smith, Cara Wellman, Peter Todd, Jeff Alberts, Ellen Ketterson

November 11, 2020

Speaker: Gabe Zentner, Department of Biology, Indiana University

Title: "Germline diversification of the general transcription machinery"

December 9, 2020

Speaker: Lesley Weaver, Department of Biology, Indiana University

Title: "Regulation of oogenesis by nuclear receptor signaling"